Yes, process my order. I understand and consent to the following: I assume all responsibility for shipping and handing and release and hold harmless My Crystal Companion LLC its partners and employees and Distributors from any liability associated with loss of cremated remains, or breakage or the aesthetic appearance of the COMPANION. Crystal Companions are keep sake memorials. Due to its nature, they are not perfectly cut stones and may contain slight imperfections and variations. A small amount of cremated remains is lost to the patented creation process. My Crystal Companion will use the appropriate amount of cremated remains particular to the COMPANION selected. The remainder will be returned to me. I understand that the creation of a COMPANION is an art, and that the uniqueness of each art form in color and clarity is determined by the composition of the cremains used. Each COMPANION design is solid glass, with the exception of the cremated remains, which have been infused. Sometimes air bubbles and slight imperfections are present similar to those found in high quality glass crystal. I will ship the cremated remains via a carrier that requires proof of receipt and I understand My Crystal Companion LLC. and its agents will do the same. If, after receipt any COMPANION is damaged or broken, My Crystal Companion has the ability to recast at the owner's request. Terms for recasting will be provided on an individual basis." I represent that I have read and accept the conditions as stated above and that I have the legal right to authorize the creation of the COMPANIONS I have ordered."

You MUST sign this form and forward the cremated remains as instructed by your Distributor.
